Key Issue: The key issue facing the electric utility industry is making competition a success for customers, shareholders and employees. This will require each segment of the industry (wires and generation) to recreate their business by capitalizing on new technology, access to customers and greater competitive pressures in all dimensions of the industry.

Jeb E. Bradley

State Representative
Carroll County, District 8

Community Service: NH State Legislature, 1991-present; former: president, Wolfeboro-Tuftonboro Youth Baseball Association; Wolfeboro Planning Board; Wolfeboro Budget Committee

Key Issue: Preserving the New Hampshire way of life. I believe we need to continue to protect the NH environment while providing for a vibrant economy. We all have a myriad of opportunities and challenges presented by technological innovation in the next several decades. Telecommunications technological advancement will continue its rapid development as well as deployment. Electric generation will, in all likelihood, become more decentralized and more environmentally benign, I believe. I hope NH will be at the cutting edge of these technological changes and certainly look forward to exciting times ahead of us.
